

‘GAZIANTEP’ -a city that is easy to come to but difficult to leave-

Welcome to experience one of the oldest settlements in history, welcome to taste the remarkable variety of foods of a rich cuisine, welcome to see traditional and unique hand crafts and welcome to discover the cultural diversity of Gaziantep.

Gaziantep is located in southeastern Anatolia and it is the sixth largest city in Turkey. Its population, financial power, old history, and Greater Municipality make the city metropolitan. Having been inhabited since prehistoric times and situated on the historic Silk Road, it bears the traces of many different civilizations. Gaziantep is one of the oldest centers that reflects the culture of human societies. Its history goes back to 4000 B. C.

The castle is still standing as one of the symbols of the city. Clustered around it are some historic neighborhoods which preserve some old stone houses among the characterless modern ones. Gaziantep has a culture way that is 5.5 km long at the city center, starting around the castle and including many historic inns, baths, mosques on it.

Gaziantep is famous for its three regional specialties: 1) Pistachio that is specific to the region, and also Baklava (sweet pastry) that is made best in Gaziantep all over the world, 2) The world-famous copper-ware products, 3) The delicious kebabs and 252 different dishes.

Gaziantep has the biggest mosaic museum of the world and it has one of the largest zoo in Turkey. Transportation to the city is very simple; there is an international airport to which several airlines have flights. Turkey is one of the safest countries in the world having Interpol ranked it as being the safest destination in Europe. And Gaziantep in Turkey doesn't have any serious safety problems.

Gaziantep is a war veteran city in which you can relieve the past and the present through its historical, touristic and natural beauties, memories from wars, high plateaus, plains, unique handcrafts, delicious meals, mosques, churches, tombs, inns, and baths. Gaziantep welcomes you!

